

How to use this form

- Use this form to file a complaint in BC for a group or class of persons.
- This form has 2 parts. Part 1 has 3 steps. Part 2 has 11 steps.
  - Answer the questions on the-form or use extra pages.
  - You can add up to 5 pages in Part 1 and 5 pages in Part 2, Step 3 if the form does not have enough space.
- Print clearly. Use a black or blue pen.
- Do not attach evidence about the complaint. (There is one exception in Part 2, Step 8). The Tribunal will tell you when you need to submit evidence to support your complaint.
- Keep a copy of your complaint form and all of your documents.
- If you are filing the complaint for another person, you must also file a Form 1.2 – Authorization (unless you are their lawyer or legal advocate). Get the Form 1.2 on the Tribunal website.

1-year time limit to make complaint

- Submit this form within 1 year of the discrimination, if possible.
- If you file late, you can ask the Tribunal to accept your complaint when you fill out this form.

Do you need help?

- We recommend you get legal advice about the complaint before submitting it, if possible.
- See Who Can Help? on the Tribunal website.

What will the Tribunal do with this form?

The Tribunal will read Part 1 of the form to see if you are a suitable representative and that the complaint is suitable for a group or class complaint. The Tribunal will read Part 2 of the form to see if you set out possible discrimination under the Human Rights Code. The Tribunal may ask you for more information. If you set out possible discrimination, the Tribunal will give a copy of your complaint to the Respondents so they can respond to the complaint.

There is more information at the end of this form about:

- Meeting people’s needs in the process so they can take part. (The legal term is “accommodation”.)
- Privacy and who may see the information on this form,
- What happens next, and
- Protection from retaliation for making a complaint.

Part 2, Step 1 – Respondents

Part 2, Step 1 Respondent contact information

Important information about Respondents:

1. The Respondent is the person or organization you say discriminated against the group or class members. Usually, there is only one.
2. Usually the Respondent is an organization such as: corporate employer or landlord, government body, service provider, business or union. Organizations are usually responsible for their employees' actions. Make the organization Respondent #1.
3. An individual can be a Respondent, but only name the person who you say discriminated against the group or class. For example, name the person who harassed group or class members. Do not name the person who only told the members about a policy you say is discriminatory.

Email: Email is fastest. If possible, give an email address where we can send your complaint. Choose someone that you think has authority to respond to your complaint. For example, someone in the human resources or legal department.

Name of Respondent #1:

Relationship to group or class members: (example: employer, landlord, government body)

Part 2, Step 2 – Area and Grounds of Discrimination

Step 2, Part B Grounds of discrimination

Information: The Human Rights Code protects people based on the characteristics or “grounds” below. The Code protects people who have the characteristic. The Code also protects people if they don’t have the characteristic, but someone thinks they do. Discrimination is conduct that harms you based on one or more characteristics.

Example of multiple “grounds”: A service provider treats a First Nations woman badly. She selects the grounds Indigenous identity and sex.

Check only the grounds that apply to this complaint. Give details for each ground you check. Examples:
Disability – The class members have vision impairment. Sex – The group members are women.

<input type="checkbox"/> Indigenous identity, details: _____ _____	You are First Nations, Métis, Inuit.

Form 1.3 – Group or Class Complaint

Part 2, Step 4 – Time Limit

Step 4, Part A Is the complaint filed in time?

There is a 1-year time limit for filing a complaint. Answer these questions:

1. What is the date of the most recent conduct that you listed as discrimination?

Respondent #1: _____ Respondent #2: _____
(yyyy mm dd) (yyyy mm dd)

2. Did the most recent conduct happen in the last year?

Respondent #1  yes  no Respondent #2  yes  no

3. Did all of the conduct happen in the last year?

- yes – go to Step 5. You filed your complaint in time.
 no – continue in Step 4.

4. Is all of the conduct related or similar?

Information: You must file a complaint within one year of the last conduct if the conduct is similar or related. The legal term is “continuing contravention”.

- yes – answer questions 5 and 6.
 no – skip questions 5 and 6. Go to Step 4, Part B.

5. Explain how the conduct is similar or related (a “continuing contravention”).

Examples:

- Each event is about someone using racial slurs.
- Each event is about an employer not accommodating a disability.

6. Explain any gaps in time.

Information: Gaps in time might mean there is no “continuing contravention”. The Tribunal will consider reasons for gaps.

Examples:

- “The Respondent won’t provide an ASL interpreter. The events where interpreters are needed are three months apart.”
- “The manager uses racial slurs. The manager was on leave for four months.”

If you need more space, use extra sheets (maximum 5 pages for Step 4). Mark them “Step 4”.

Form 1.3 – Group or Class Complaint

Part 2, Step 4 – Time Limit

Step 4, Part B Ask Tribunal to accept late complaint

Information:

- Complete this step if any conduct happened more than 1 year ago.
- There must be a good reason to accept the late complaint. The legal term is that it must be in the “public interest”.
- There must be no real harm to anyone because of the delay in filing. The legal term is no “substantial prejudice”.

1. Reasons to accept complaint

Information: Reasons include:

- Why you filed late, and how late you filed,
- Why accepting the complaint would benefit the public.

A. Why did you file late?

Examples the Tribunal will consider:

- The Complainant has a disability that prevented them from filing on time.
- The Complainant faced trauma or a family or housing crisis that made it hard to file the complaint at the time of the events.
- The Complainant recently found evidence of discrimination.
- The delay is very short and there is some reason for filing late.

Attach any documents that support your reasons for filing late. Examples: doctor’s note, or letter from a counsellor.

B. How will accepting your complaint benefit the public?

Examples: A complaint is about a situation that the Tribunal has not addressed often. A complaint seeks a remedy that would help many people.

2. Why would the delay in filing not harm anyone else?

Information: The delay means the time after the 1-year time limit.

- “The complaint is two months late. Documents and witnesses should still be available.”
- “The complaint is six months late. I know of no harm to the Respondents.”

If you need more space, use extra sheets (maximum 5 pages total for Step 4). Mark them “Step 4”.

Form 1.3 – Group or Class Complaint

Part 2, Steps 5-6

Step 5 Other proceedings

Information: The Tribunal can defer the complaint (put it on hold) until another proceeding is finished.

Instructions: Answer these questions.

1. Is there another proceeding about the same events?

yes – answer question 2     no – go to Step 6.

2. What kind of proceeding is it?

Examples: union grievance, court case, WorkSafeBC claim.

3. What stage is that proceeding at?

Examples: Has there been a hearing? When do you expect a decision?

4. Do you want the Tribunal to wait to deal with the complaint?

yes – answer question 5

no – go to Step 6

5. Explain why you want the Tribunal to wait to deal with the complaint.

Step 6 Remedies

Check the kinds of remedies you want for the group or class members that are available under s. 37 of the Human Rights Code:

Order to stop the discrimination

Declaration that the conduct is discrimination

Steps or programs to address the discrimination (examples: training, policy)

Compensation for injury to dignity, feelings, and self-respect

Compensation for lost wages or other expenses such as moving expenses, photocopying, costs of attending the hearing (keep receipts)

Something specific (examples: job back, ramp): _____

Step 7 Mediation

Information:

- At a “mediation”, a trained mediator works with you and the Respondent to find a solution to the complaint. Settlement is voluntary. If you can’t agree, the process continues.
- If you settle your complaint, the process is usually much faster. If you don’t settle, there are steps you must take before a hearing where you can prove your complaint. See Steps in the Process on the Tribunal website.
- Mediation is free.
- What you and the Respondent say in mediation is confidential.
- A mediator does not act for either party.
- You can bring your representative or a support person.
- You don’t have to be in the same room as a Respondent to participate in mediation. The mediator can speak to you and the Respondent separately.
- For more information see Settle a Complaint on the Tribunal website.

The Tribunal will ask the Respondent if they want to attend a mediation. If you both agree, the Tribunal will contact you to schedule a date for the mediation.

Do you want to attend a mediation?

yes  no

Step 8 Indigenous Peoples

Indigenous or Aboriginal Peoples are First Nations, Métis, or Inuit.

The Tribunal is committed to Truth and Reconciliation with Indigenous Peoples.

If you are Indigenous, a Tribunal staff person can:

- Explain the process and process options
- Talk about including Indigenous protocols or ways of resolving disputes in the process.

If you want the Tribunal to contact you, check here:

I confirm I am First Nations, Métis or Inuit. I want someone to contact me to talk about the process.

Group or Class Complaint

Part 2, Steps 9-10

Step 9 Extra pages

More space for answers to questions in form

You may add up to 5 pages for Part 1, up to 5 pages for Step 3 – Details and up to 5 pages for Step 4 – Time Limit.

Check here if you are attaching extra pages.

Number each page you attach, write the step you are responding to, and name the Respondent that it is about.

How many extra pages are you attaching: _____

Evidence

Do not file evidence now unless an exception applies. There are 2 exceptions:

1. You can file evidence to show why you filed your complaint late. For example, a doctor's note.
2. If your complaint is about a job ad or publication, you can attach the ad or publication.

Check here if you are attaching evidence. One of these exceptions must apply.

How many pages of evidence are you attaching: _____

Keep your documents. The Tribunal will tell you when you need to submit evidence to support your complaint.

Step 10 Confirm information is true and accurate

Keep a copy of your complaint form.

Check the following box:

The information I gave is true and accurate to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Accommodation

The Tribunal wants to make sure its process is safe and accessible for everyone.

If you or a group or class member needs an accommodation, attach a page called “Accommodation Request”.

Examples:

- “I am Deaf. I need an interpreter.”
- “I am Indigenous. I would like access to smudging during a hearing.”

Privacy Notice

The Tribunal collects personal information to process human rights complaints. The Tribunal may survey parties to improve its services.

The demographic information you give at the end of this form is confidential.

The Tribunal will give a copy of the rest of the form to the other parties.

The Tribunal must provide copies of complaints and responses to the Office of the Human Rights Commissioner. The Tribunal may provide the Commissioner with other records in a complaint file.

The Tribunal may disclose personal information to the public as follows:

- The Tribunal publishes most decisions on its website.
- The Tribunal publishes a hearing schedule.
- Before a hearing, the public can see parts of the file. This does not include contact information. It does include:
  - The complaint,
  - The response to the complaint.
- Hearings are open to the public.
- The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act applies to the Tribunal. Someone can apply to see information in the complaint file.

You can ask the Tribunal to limit the information it makes public. You can also ask the Tribunal to order a publication ban. Use a Form 7.1 General Application to apply. For more information, see Apply to Limit Publication of Personal Information on the Tribunal website.

Other laws may restrict a party from going public with information in this complaint.

For more information, see the Complaint Process Privacy Policy.

What happens next?

The Tribunal will review your complaint. Next, it will tell you one of the following:

- The complaint form is complete and the complaint will proceed to the next step. The Tribunal will send a copy to the Respondent(s).
- The complaint form is incomplete and the Tribunal will ask you for more information by a certain date.
- The complaint is on hold until the end of another proceeding.
- The complaint cannot be accepted for filing because:
  - The complaint is not covered by the BC Human Rights Code,
  - The complaint does not set out facts that could be discrimination under the BC Human Rights Code, or
  - The complaint was filed late and the Tribunal has decided not to accept it.

Protection from retaliation

The Human Rights Code forbids retaliation:

- Against someone who makes a complaint to the Tribunal or who might make a complaint, or
- Against someone who might get involved in a complaint. This includes parties, witnesses, or anyone who might help with a complaint.

Retaliation is conduct that punishes someone for their involvement in a complaint. It includes:

- Evicting
- Firing or suspending
- Expelling or kicking out
- Intimidating
- Penalizing
- Other similar kinds of harm

For more information see Protection from Retaliation on the Tribunal website.

If you or someone else has been retaliated against, complete a Form 1.4 – Retaliation Complaint available in the Forms section on our website.
